To all our many old friends and to new ones we've not yet met, we extend our warmest greetings and express the hope that you will make this your regular church home if you are not already an active member elsewhere. There are no strangers who enter this House, but there are friends we have not been privileged to meet. Will you be so kind as to make yourselves known to the ministers before you leave? We will appreciate the opportunity of knowing you personally and of introducing you to some of our older folk.
